

Innovations in Dermatological Sciences Conference – Agenda September 27 & 28, 2023 REMOTE

“The Dermatology Market: What’s Hot and What’s Not”

PLENARY SESSION Day 1: Dr. Seth Orlow, NYU Langone Health, Pharos Advisors, LLC

“Pharmaceutical Dermatology: Practical Considerations”

Dr. Vijendra Nalamothu, Tergus Pharma

“Advances in Antioxidant Technology for Skin Care”

Dr. Roger McMullen, Ashland LLC, Fairleigh Dickinson University, School of Natural Sciences

“3D & 4D Printing for Transdermal and Wound Healing”

Dr. Dimitrios Lamprou, Queen's University Belfast (UK)

“Clinical and Patient-Specific Factors Impacting Microneedle Drug Delivery”

Dr. Nicole Brogden, University of Iowa, College of Pharmacy

“Understanding INCI with focus on the INCI Nomenclature of Recombinant Proteins”

Dr. Mindy Goldstein, Independent Cosmetic Consultant

“Overview of the U.S. Cosmetics Regulatory Framework”

Dr. Prashiela Manga, Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition, U.S. Food and Drug Administration

“The Multifaceted Roles Played by Exosomes in Melanoma Development and their Potential as Therapeutic Agents”

Dr. Gavin Robertson, Penn State University, Cancer Institute

“Percutaneous Absorption of Sunscreens and Other Consumer Products”

PLENARY SESSION Day 2: Dr. Michael Roberts

University of Queensland, Emeritus Professor of Clinical Pharmacology & Therapeutics

“US sunscreen innovation – are we there yet?”

Carl D’Ruiz, dsm-firmenich Personal Care, Scientific Affairs and Advocacy; Chair: PCPC Sunscreen Consortium

“Skin Color and Skin of Color”

Dr. Miri Seiberg, Seiberg Consulting

“Foundations for People of Color – The Effect of Ultramarine Blue”

Dr. Gabriella Baki, UToledo College of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, Cosmetic Science and Formulation Design

“Skin Lightening”

Dr. Neelam Muizzuddin, Skin Clinical Research Consultants

“Visualization of Skin Treatment Effects In-vivo”

Dr. Babar Rao, Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School; Weill Cornell Medical College

“Characterization of the Biological Activity of a Unique Botanical Extract to Treat Atopic Dermatitis”

Dr. Kevin Mills, North Carolina State University, Department of Biological Sciences and John Snowball, Scientist/Bioinformatics, P&G Global Bioscience

FDA Panel Discussion: Tannaz Ramezani, PharmD; Priyanka Ghosh, PhD; Markham Luke, MD. PhD

Moderated by: Sam Raney, PhD