

Course Transformation Institute

Receive professional help designing and implementing course transformations

Engage in formal training in education theories and practices

Get paid to focus on your teaching

Build a community of educators interested in course transformation

About the Course Transformation Institute

Dates: July 6- July 26, 2021

Description: During this NSF supported 3 week summer program faculty will explore different pedagogies, use the education literature to create a teaching portfolio, and create a course transformation plan with guidance from a network of education professionals across Rutgers. Participating faculty will receive continued support throughout the academic year in implementing their course transformations

Applications Due Monday 5/24 @12

For more information and to submit an application visit us at:
<https://go.rutgers.edu/yx1fvlq0>

