The Center for Women in the Arts and Humanities (CWAH) is committed to bringing high quality educational and cultural opportunities to diverse global, national, regional, state, and university audiences. CWAH is dedicated to affording complete access to all and does not discriminate on the basis of disability in employment, programming or accessing CWAH resources. CWAH makes every effort to accommodate requests for services in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), as required by Section 35.107 of the U.S. Department of Justice regulations, and to coordinate compliance with Sections 504 and 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Upon request and with due notice, the CWAH will attempt to make additional accommodations as needed unless the accommodation would impose an undue hardship.
