

RESOURCES AVAILABLE

CWAH AFFILIATED SENIOR SCHOLARS and VISITING SCHOLARS

The Center for Women in the Arts and Humanities welcomes individuals who have demonstrated excellence in feminist scholarship in any field related to the arts and humanities to request affiliation as either an Affiliated Senior Scholar or Visiting Scholar. Visit cwah.rutgers.edu/visiting-scholars-artists/scholars for more information.

Rutgers University:

- Special Collections and University Archives
  - Miriam Schapiro Archives on Women Artists – contains manuscript collections related to women artists and art organizations.
  - Book Arts and Artists' Books Collection
  - New Jersey Book Arts Archive
  - Martin and Harriet Diamond Vertical Files of American Art – contains ephemeral art exhibition catalogs dating primarily from the twentieth-century.
- Zimmerli Art Museum – permanent collection totals more than 60,000 works in a wide range of media. The Zimmerli has particularly strong holdings in:
  - Nineteenth-century French art, particularly prints and rare books
  - Russian art and Soviet nonconformist art from the Dodge Collection
  - American art, especially prints
  - Morse Research Center for Graphic Arts – collection of works on paper including prints, drawings, photographs, rare books, and original illustrations.
- Rutgers University Libraries
  - Art Library
  - Digital Humanities Lab
  - East Asian Library
  - Sharon A. Fordham Multimedia Lab
  - Margery Somers Foster Center
  - Media Center
  - Blanche and Irving Laurie Performing Arts Library
- Institute of Jazz Studies
  - Archival Collection – collections of personal papers and organizational records that document the growth and development of jazz throughout the 20th century.
  - Jazz Oral History Project

Nearby Institutions:

- Newark Museum
- Princeton University

New York City and Philadelphia are both easily accessible via train and car from the Rutgers New Brunswick campus.