01:18:38 Michael Joseph: Arthur Brock, a doctor at Craiglockhart War Hospital in Scotland, where many of the soldiers with PTSD were treated, believed in arranging ordered activities that would connect suffering soldiers to the world. Specifically, he got them to write metrical verse, which seems to have had a good effect. I 'm wondering if paper making and similar kinds of structured book art making processes would work, too

01:19:15 Michael Joseph: Sorry. I'm referencing the period during the last few years of WW1 (1916-)

01:22:10 Jennifer Eggleston: These pieces are amazing - what a powerful transformational experience! Thank you for your service and all you are doing with this program.

01:28:43 Richard Minsky234934: Thank you. Important work.

01:29:24 Carol Freid: Thank you for all you do to bring back some humanity to heart wrenching stories - your work is extraordinary

01:29:30 iPhone: is is just incredible - the process so inspired - "communal reflective safe place" echoes in my heart

01:29:34 Amanda McKenzie (she/her): This is really incredible and so amazing to provide important art experiences to veterans. It was really inspiring.

01:30:31 Michael Joseph: Really timely talk. As Karen says, we need to heal our country and the soul of our country. Thank you!

01:30:59 iPhone: an inc

01:31:17 iPhone: edible model for the healing so many need. thank you

01:31:19 maryannmiller: Thank you Rachel and Ron!!!
